

Rogues, rangers,

Story and photos
by Steve Galea

With a history as rugged and colorful as the countryside on which it stands, it should come as no surprise to anyone that the Frost Centre harbors a few ghosts. But you might be surprised to hear that those spirits are both talented and entertaining.

Then again, you'd expect no less at the second annual Rogues and Rangers night. The event took place on November 1st at the Frost Centre and was hosted by the Friends of the Frost, an organization whose mandate is to encourage the continuation of outdoors education at the old ranger school.

Organizer Penny Obee, of Carnarvan, and a slew of cheerful volunteers put on a thoroughly enjoyable evening with a seasonal theme in mind.

"We wanted an adult Halloween-type event to benefit and raise awareness for the Friends of the Frost. We were looking to have fun, highlight the incredible history of the Centre and encourage people to join our organization. It was as much of a friend raiser as it is a fund raiser." By the looks of it, the group succeeded on both counts.

It started when about 100 participants gathered in Dorm 70 to have a friendly drink and socialize amidst skeletons, ghosts, pumpkins, spiders and a moose head hanging from the wall. As décor goes, it was uniquely Algonquin.

Soon after, the group was led to the dining hall where an excellent surf and turf meal was served. Immediately afterwards, Obee took on the role of enthusiastic auctioneer for a Chinese loonie auction that raised several hundred dollars for the cause.

And then the entertainment began in earnest.

The group stepped outside into the pitch darkness of a mild November night. There, Michael Connelly, the spirit of a long dead lumberman, stepped forward from behind the eerie, yellow glow of a coal oil lantern.

Connelly (played superbly by Tim Nicholson) regaled the group with historic tales of the region's lumber industry. In thick Irish brogue, he lamented his own passing long ago when he was crushed beneath the perilous weight of a load of timber. He was the second man in camp to die that year.

But, though dead, Connelly's lively spirit and good nature lived on. He gave a lumberman's view of the world as it was and spoke fondly of salt pork, beans, bread and tea (if you cared to pay an extra dollar a month), of six months in the same clothes, of frigid temperatures, and the haunting beauty of the wilderness.

Then he led a Spirit Walk.

he took us to the grave of Victor and Beatrice Harvey. There, the ghost of Mrs. Frances Harvey, the wife of one of the area's earliest trappers, wailed a ghostly wail for her children as she does each November beneath the light of a cold moon.

Mrs. Harvey, (convincingly portrayed by Marlene Walsh) knelt at the grave and told of the trading post that they ran. Between sobs, she spoke of trap lines, bitter winters, unbearable summers, and farmland good for nothing but rocks. But more than anything, she bewailed the loss of her precious kin to illness one November long ago.

We left the greiving Mrs. Harvey and visited the cabin of the long-departed James Austin, one of the area's first tower men. Austin's job, we are told was to watch the area for fires and sound the alarm should one occur. A shy but jolly fellow, he spoke of homecomings (which must have been pleasant considering he had 17 children), canoeing across pristine lakes, black bear encounters and skunks under the cabin. (Alan King brought this ghost to life.)

Next on our ethereal tour was the slightly crazed ghost of Roland Devereaux (Geologist John Etches missed his calling.) Then again, you might be a little off balance too, if you handled dynamite and nitro-glycerin all day long as Devereaux did. The half-deaf powder monkey, told of taming the rock to make roads, and of the grand, if not short-lived life, of a blaster.

Then Connelly introduced us to "Three Draft" McNabb (David Archibald). The long gone Ranger picked a tune on his banjo, slurped on beer, and regaled us with the ins-and outs of an education at the old Ranger School - an education that relied on more than a few classes at the nearby Rockcliffe Hotel.

Last but not least was the spirit of Director Joseph Mennill who ran the Ranger School in the late 50s and early 60s. Mennill (played by Adam Zita) was a harsh taskmaster and a distinguished man in uniform who reminisced about the rigorous 32-week course that he presided over.

Shortly thereafter the spirits left us and we found ourselves in the auditorium enjoying the lively and historical tunes of David Archibald. This talented singer-songwriter mesmerized the crowd with songs of the Frost Centre. He sang of St. Nora's Tower, of 400-year-old hemlocks, of the Frost Center's infamous Dr. Sludge and much more. This was one of the brightest highlights in an evening of many.

All in all, it was as Obee said, "an excellent evening. Many people now have a greater appreciation for the Frost Centre and what it stands for. We gained new members and raised some funds."

Obee and her crew can now take a well-deserved break. Heck, after that, even Michael Connelly might rest easy for a while.

Ontario government offers free flu shots to all residents

Protect those around you from getting ill this winter

Every Ontario resident will again have the opportunity to receive a free flu shot this year before the start of the winter flu season.

"Getting a flu shot is one of the best things you can do to play your part in fighting infectious diseases this winter," Health and Long-Term Care Minister George Smitherman said today at the provincial launch of the flu shot campaign.

"It will keep you healthy during the flu season, protect those around you from getting ill, and help us make better use of our healthcare system. It's the smart thing to do."

It is more convenient than ever to get a flu shot. Besides doctors and local public health units, flu shots are also available this year at local pharmacies and through employers across the province. During the flu shot campaign this year, the government will be working closely with public health units and employers across the province. Word of the flu shot campaign will be spread through television, radio and newspaper advertising. There will also be information on the flu at <http://www.HealthyOntario.com>, as well as details on flu shot clinics on the ministry website at <http://www.health.gov.on.ca>.

"It has never been more important to be immunized against the flu since the emergence of SARS this year showed just how harmful infectious diseases can be," said Dr. Colin D'Cunha, Ontario's Commissioner of Public Health. "Flu symptoms, such as a high temperature and respiratory difficulties, can be easily confused with those of SARS. A flu shot will help cut the number of flu cases in the province, lessening people's fears and might make it easier for doctors who may evaluate people for SARS, should the disease re-emerge."

This is the fourth consecutive year that the Ontario government has offered free flu shots to all residents. For further information on getting a flu shot, call 1-866-FLU-N YOU (1-866-358-6968) (TTY 1-800-387-5559). Or visit the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care website at www.health.gov.on.ca.

Veneer plant closes doors

Future uncertain for Wilberforce's largest employer

community news

wilberforce

Hilda Clark
448-2018

The veneer factory in Wilberforce has over the years been one of the largest employers in the area. Unfortunately for the employees and the community Ontario Hardwood Veneer ceased operation a few weeks ago. Over the last few years the operation has had several down periods. Though the future is uncertain, former employees are hopeful.

It is disturbing to note that some campaign signs for one particular local candidate in the Highlands East Municipal election have been removed from several prominent locations in the community. They were replaced and then removed again. One hopes that those involved and their families realize that it is against the law to tamper with or remove these signs. If people have problems with the platforms of specific candidates there are better ways to put forward opinions and ideas than selectively removing campaign signs.

The community is saddened to learn of the death of Laverne Lewis of Tory Hill. He died on Saturday, November 1, 2003 at home at the age of 61. Laverne worked for many years for the Ministry of Transportation and had retired a few years ago. About a month ago it was discovered that he had cancer and his condition worsened very rapidly. Our sympathy is extended to his wife Betty, his sons Barry (Annette), Gary (Melissa), grandson Mark, mother-in-law Edith Holt, and sister Audrey and all his family. He was the son of the late Raymond and Ethel Lewis and son-in-law of the late Charles Holt.

The Craft Sale on Saturday drew lots of folk both looking and buying. Some groups report good sales. Many of the vendors and others will be back at the Pathfinders' Craft Sale on the first Saturday in December. There were many fine works of art being sold as well as crafts.

Several members of the Loop Troupe and friends will attend the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival on one act plays in Brighton, Ontario on November 7 and 8. They will be part of the audience this year. The Loop Troupe entered the festival last year 2002 in Cornwall and in 2001 in Merrickville.

Harcourt couple celebrate 60 fulfilling years together

community news

harcourt

Valerie Smith
448-3640

There is a couple in Harcourt who took basic marriage principals, put them in practice and are still married after 60 years. The couple is Merle and Agnes (Rodrigue) Donaldson. Merle and Agnes are 2nd generation Harcourt residents and they have a story I would like to share with you.

Agnes was born the fifth eldest in a family of 13 in Quebec on January 16, 1925 and baptized Marie Francoise Agnes Rodrigue. Merle was born on November 23, 1923 in McGarry Flats (located on a north arm of Baptiste Lake) and was the third eldest of a family of 12.

Agnes was a young girl of 9 when her family moved to the Harcourt Community. Their first home was in a log cabin near Fish Tail Creek where the present day Kent Club is located. The cabin was physically bleak and cold but it did not take long for the drafty old place to take on the vibrant happy spirit of this new family. Music filled the air and soon neighbours and friends were not long in joining them.

Her family moved a number of other times renting accommodations here and there and it was a very joyous occasion when they were finally able to purchase land and build their own family home. The Rodrigue family home was located where there is a 'Y' in the road between present day Old Harcourt Road and Hwy 648. It was not until October 25, 1950 the Department of Hwy. actually expropriated land from Cleophas Rodrigue to build the new highway that runs past the present Kallay home.

At the time when her family built their home, the railway line ran on one side of the house and there was no 648 highway. The old railway bed was very near to their home and it was not unusual for Mr.

Sprung, who took care of the freight on the old I.B.&O., to throw the 'funnies' or as we now call them comic books out the window as he passed by. He knew Agnes' father Cleophas, who could only read French, greatly enjoyed looking at them.

The Rodrigue home was a 24-foot by 24-foot room when first built. They had tarpaper covering on the outside of the building and the first winter in their new home found them with no windowpanes covering the window openings. Over the windows, they hung blankets to keep the cold winter winds at bay but still the chill crept in. They had a potbelly stove to heat with and a wood cook stove with which to cook and bake. Those near the stove roasted and those sleeping further afield froze. A pole in the middle of the floor held up the upper part of the house.

The physical nature of the home was rudimentary and very basic but it was bursting at the seams with not only children but also lots of fun loving people. Agnes describes her days as a youth at home as very happy days with always someone visiting, always times to share laughter, to sing and dance. Her zest for life has not diminished. She is the personification of a 'happy' person.

During these times, it was not only Agnes' family that was settling and building a family home but Merle's family as well. In 1934 Merle and his father came to the area and soon began to clear a piece of ground to build a home for their family who was still in McGarry Flats. It was long days of hard work cutting cord wood for 75 cents a cord and working on building their home as well. The hardship they met head on and love of family was very strong in his family as well. In order to visit the remaining Donaldson Family still at McGarry Flats, he and his father would walk all the way from Harcourt to Baptiste Lake on a Saturday and make the return trip on Sunday. At the time, the I.B.O. was running but they could not afford the luxury of the 20-cent fare.

October 29, 1945 marked a significant day for the Donaldson Family when they were able to obtain their own piece of property from Frank Pacey. This property was located on the corner of the present day Elephant Lake Road and 648 Highway where the Ridgeview Restaurant is today.

Like Agnes Merle grew up with the sounds of music in his home as well. His mother, Victoria Alice (Sears) Donaldson loved to play the violin and often played for dances in Harcourt and surrounding communities.

Agnes and Merle first met in 1935 when they were attending school at Harcourt S.S. #2 and the school sweethearts were married November 10, 1943 in Bancroft, Ontario. On April 27, 1956 Merle and Agnes purchased land from Merle's mother and built their own home.

Merle and Agnes both enjoyed the trials, tribulations and joys of raising their family. During their marriage, Merle and Agnes were blessed with six children: Orval, Richard, Dollie, Larry, Karen and Sheila. With the exception of nine years, when they tried living in the City of Cambridge, they raised their family here in Harcourt.

Both Merle and Agnes enjoy fishing and sitting on the front porch enjoying nature, sights and sounds and thinking about their family and all the great years they have been blessed with.

From all your family and friends we all wish you a Very Happy 60th Anniversary and May your future continue to hold wonder, love and may it be as rich and fulfilling as these past 60 years.

Sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Laverne Lewis, a long time resident of Tory Hill. Laverne, born April 6, 1942 was just in his 61-st. year when his battle with cancer finally ended in the early morning hours of November 1, 2003. Laverne will be sadly missed by his loving wife Betty (Holt) whom he married October 2, 1965. He was the devoted father of two sons Barry and Gary. Grandson Mark will find the hours long without his friend, his Grandpa.

Laverne was the son of the late Ethel (Townsend) Lewis and Raymond Lewis of Highland Grove. He will be fondly remembered by sisters Audrey Pacey, Yvonne Peel, Madeline Thompson, Shirley Langford and their families. He is predeceased by siblings Doris, Ross and Opal (Lewis) Ellis. Sister Opal died 9 years earlier from cancer on November 1, 1994.

Gone is the man Laverne, but not the memory of him. His many family and friends will grieve his untimely passing.

The Harcourt Community Chapel has been very pleased to have Raye and Bev Harrington as guests at their 7:00 P.M. services for the past three weeks. Raye and Bev offer a variety of singing and playing of instruments that have been greatly enjoyed by all. November 9th will be the last evening that they will be with the community, so please plan to attend the 7:00 p.m. service. The Harcourt Community Church is an independent, biblical assembly that is not affiliated with any denominational group and draws teachings from the Bible. All families are welcome to attend. The Sunday 11:00 a.m. service is Family Bible Hour and offers something in the service for children, teens and adults. The Sunday 7:00 p.m. service features congregational singing, special music and a variety of speakers. Please come out and meet Raye and Bev Harrington and the rest of the congregation. Visitors and new comers are always welcome. For more information call 448-CARE(2273)

Take Two Minutes To Be Part Of The Wave Of Silence

There are 525,600 minutes in a standard year. The Royal Canadian Legion is asking you to take two minutes of that time to share with us as we remember our war dead at 11 a.m. local time on 11 November. Help us create a "Wave of Silence" from coast to coast through your participation. It's not much to ask in return for what we have as Canadians. But it will mean the world to those who survived the wars of the past century, and to those still in our military forces today. It will show them that their service counts and that they will not be forgotten as we speed our way through the 21st century.

There will be many prizes and favours and a hot and cold buffet. The $1,000.00 draw will be made for the 2003 Cash Calendar. The cost is only $40.00 per couple and $25.00 for a single.

Members, PLEASE remember to attend the general meetings of the branch every month on the second Thursday (except Jan. & Feb.) Mark the next two dates on your calendar now; November 13th and December 11th at 7:30 p.m.

Support needed to boost the health of children

The local Medical Officer of Health is calling for the establishment of a "living wage" for low-income families to break a cycle of poverty that threatens their well-being.

Dr. Alex Hukowich made the suggestion at last Thursday's Board of Health meeting following the release of the Caring For Our Children Report which estimates 19 per cent of families in Northumberland County, Haliburton County and the City of Kawartha Lakes live in poverty.

The report - prepared by Family Health staff with the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit based on figures from Statistics Canada and local municipalities - documents a variety of social determinants of health that are affecting the well-being of young children in the area.

Social determinants of health can include income, education, employment, food security and housing. All play a factor in how a child grows and develops.

"Many children are stuck in a vicious circle of poverty that is only amplified as they get older," said Dr. Hukowich. "Until we help these kids, we'll continue to see this problem grow."

His idea for a 'living wage' is one that would give families enough to afford necessities and lift them out of poverty. Dr. Hukowich said a 'living wage' isn't likely for many families now, given reduced social assistance rates and a minimum wage of $6.85 per hour that hasn't been increased in seven years.

The Caring For Our Children Report estimates a person working 40 hours minimum wage would only earn a gross income of $14,248. That is well below the Low Income Cut Off Rate used by Statistics Canada to calculate the number of people living in poverty.

Dr. Hukowich said a living wage is only one of a "combination of efforts" to tackle a serious problem that is too often ignored by health advocates. "We've worked to have milk pasteurized and people immunized against disease, but we seem to have a hard time addressing life factors that may affect their health," he said.

Family Health Nurse Mary Lou Mills echoed the sentiment in presenting the Caring For Our Children Report to the Board. While most children in Haliburton, Northumberland and Kawartha Lakes are healthy, she said there are serious challenges affecting their well-being.

The report finds:

- Median income of all low-income families in the Health Unit area was $14,450. in 2000 - well below the Statistics Canada Low Income Cut Off rate

- Lack of affordable housing continues to be a problem locally

- Long waiting lists and little vacancy rates pose challenge for parents seeking regulated child care spaces while they work or continue their education

The Health Unit will be sharing the report with local politicians, community agencies and the general public in the hope of raising awareness about how social determinants of health affect children.

"There is no simple solution and it certainly won't happen overnight," Mills told the Board. "But we can get the ball rolling to help children in our communities become the healthy, well-adjusted and productive adults of tomorrow."

Money arrives

David Flowers (right), Ministry of Natural Resources fisheries extension biologist, presented a cheque of $100,000 to Andy Campbell, Haliburton Community Development Corporation director, and John Ball, Haliburton Outdoors Association president. The money is the base funding for the fish hatchery for the next four years and will cover the cost of operations. The HCDC is acting as trustee for the funds. Flowers says public contributions are still needed for educational programs, scientific research and field assessments.

Tis the season to be wary

The sudden appearance of a large animal in the middle of the highway, seemingly out of nowhere, is any driver's nightmare. The Canada Safety Council is warning motorists that deer collisions peak in October and November, which is the mating season and the time for migration to winter yarding areas. The majority of these crashes occur between dusk and dawn when visibility is low.

Ungulates (hoofed mammals) that stand high on their legs, such as moose and deer, pose the most danger to vehicle occupants. If they are hit they can roll onto the hood and into the windshield or roof, resulting in extensive damage and serious or fatal injury. Deer and other big-game populations are on the rise. At the same time, there are increasing numbers on the road, resulting in serious collisions.

"The problem must be addressed at the local level," says Canada Safety Council president Emile Therien. "Various technologies are being tried to prevent collisions with wildlife, and some communities will have to look at culling their deer populations. Still, there is no substitute for a defensive driver."

Tips to Avoid Collisions With Wildlife

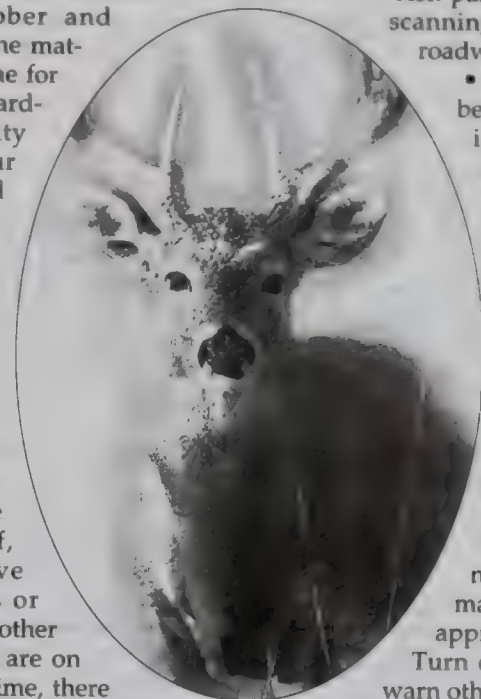

- Ask passengers to help by scanning both sides of the roadway.

- Use your high beams when no traffic is approaching and never over-drive your headlights - you need to see an animal in time to avoid hitting it.

- Should you spot an animal beside the road, slow down until you have safely passed it. Expect more animals to follow. Animals near the roadside may bolt suddenly, so approach with caution. Turn on your flashers to warn other drivers.

- If the animal is in your path, brake firmly but do not swerve to avoid it. Sound your horn in a series of short bursts to frighten it away.

- If you can slow down with control, steer around the animal but stay on the highway. Watch out for oncoming traffic.

Cooking with kids

Encourage your child's interest in the kitchen

Cooking with kids can sometimes be a challenge, but if your child shows an interest in cooking this is a good time to encourage them. Picky eaters will be more encouraged if they have a hand in the preparation.

Start off with simple things that have few ingredients.

Get them an apron, and a cookbook for kids. The library could help you with this. Ask for Vicky.

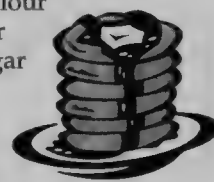

Breakfast ideas.

Make pancakes and put the mixture into a squeeze bottle and create pancake letters and shapes.

Also have an adult watch over the frying pan or griddle.

Pancake Batter

- 1.5 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tbsp baking powder
- 1 tbsp granulated sugar
- half teaspoon salt
- 1 3/4 cups milk
- 2 tbsp vegetable oil
- 1 egg lightly beaten.

In a large bowl, combine flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Combine milk, oil and egg; stir into dry ingredients just until moistened. Pour into squeeze bottle.

Heat nonstick skillet over medium heat; brush lightly with oil. Squeeze batter, in batches, into skillet, creating different shapes. Cook for about one minute or until underside is golden and bubbles break on top but don't fill in. Turn and cook for about 30 seconds or until golden. Make 24 pancakes.

Jelly Belly

2 pkg unflavored gelatin

1 1/2 cups raspberry-cranberry juice

1 1/2 cups grape juice

In small saucepan, sprinkle one package of the gelatin over half cup water; let stand for 5 minutes or until softened. Stir in half cup of the raspberry-cranberry juice; heat over low heat until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat; stir in remaining juice. Pour into 9x5 inch loaf pan. Cover and refrigerate until firm, about 3 hours.

Repeat with remaining gelatin and grape juice; pour over firm raspberry-cranberry mixture. Refrigerate until firm about 3 hours. To serve, slice and cut into cubes; spoon into bowls. Makes 6 servings.

Tip: a 2-cup bowl can be used instead of a loaf pan.

From Canadian Living Family Cookbook by Margaret Fraser 1995

Other Ideas:

Take a can of Pillsbury dough and let the kids use the crescents to wrap around hot dogs, sausages, or fill with pieces of cheese and bake in the oven until dough is golden.

Get some plain yogurt, add some honey and let the kids dunk cut up pieces of fruit.

Also for very young kids use the cookie dough with designs that come out for Halloween and Christmas.

This is a great way to let them shape the cookies and watch them bake.

You can use icing and candy pieces to decorate the cookies.

Chill out with the Icewatch program

Grab your toque and mitts because IceWatch season is just around the corner! Anyone and everyone can participate. All you need is a pair of eyes and a pen to track the yearly ice-on and ice-off dates of a water body near you.

Why bother monitoring ice events? IceWatch is important because it helps identify the effects of climate change on our country. Seasonal variations in ice cover can have serious impacts on Canadian ecosystems. Such changes can alter bird and animal migration patterns, breeding seasons for birds, food supplies for animals, water quality, trade and transport. Since climate change is not consistent across Canada, establishing a network of IceWatchers throughout the country helps provide scientists with critical data.

IceWatch, one of four programs in the NatureWatch series, is hosted by the Canadian Nature Federation (CNF) and Environment Canada's Ecological Monitoring and Assessment Network Coordinating Office.

Becoming an IceWatcher is easy. Simply choose a body of water to monitor and record the freeze and thaw dates. You don't have to be a waterfront homeowner to help out if you live close to a water body, that will do! You may choose to monitor an entire lake or river, or just a section of it, a pond in your local park, or the irrigation pond in a field.

To get involved, you can register and submit your observations on-line at www.cnf.ca/icewatch, or to request your IceWatch survey card, send a self-addressed, stamped, business size envelope to the Canadian Nature Federation, 1 Nicholas Street, Suite 606, Ottawa, ON K1N 7B7. For additional information, contact CNF at 1-800-267-4088 or e-mail icewatch@cnf.ca

450 IN MEMORIAM

COWAN, DELBERT (Bert) - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, who passed away
Nov. 10, 2001.

Our lives go on without you and nothing is the same,
We have to hide our heartache
When someone speaks your name.
Sad are the hearts that love you,
Silent the tears that fall,
Living our lives without you
Is the hardest part of all.
You did so many things for us
Your heart was kind and true,
And when we needed someone,
We could always count on you.
The special years will not return
When we were all together,
But with the love within our hearts,
You walk with us forever.

Loved and Missed so very much. Ni-
la, David & Sandy, Jim and Lynda, Kendra and Bill and Families.

HENDERSON - In loving memory of a dear father and mother, grandfather, and grandmother, great grandfather, great grandmother. Harry, who passed away July 28/96 and Loretta
who passed away Nov. 9/96.
In tears we saw you sinking
We watched you fade away
Our hearts were almost broken
You fought so hard to stay.
But when we knew you were sleeping
So peaceful, free from pain
We could not wish you back
To suffer that again.
Sadly missed and always remembered by daughters Betty, Verna, Marge and Ev, and families.

McCOLL, ALFRED - In loving memory of my dear grandfather who passed away Nov. 2, 1987.
Tenderly I treasure the past
With memories that will always last.
Vicky.

McCOLL, ALFRED - In loving memory of our dear Dad and Grandfather
who passed away Nov. 2, 1987.
We can't have back the good old days
When we were all together
But secret tears and loving thoughts
Will be with us forever.
The McColl Family.

MISCIO, MARK - In loving memory of a dear brother, brother-in-law, uncle who passed away Nov. 6, 1995.
As you were - you will always be
Treasured forever in our memory.
Larry, Jeremy, Krista, Steve.

SCHILL, HELEN - In loving memory of Helen Schill, May 16, 1926 -
Nov. 7, 2000.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
Lovingly remembered by Dianne,
Delinda, Debbie and families.
